

BAPTIST LAYMEN IN MASS-MEETING

Addresses on Different Features of Missionary Movement Delivered.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

Mark Important Departures
From Established Procedure
of Denomination.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Norfolk, Va., November 19.—A mass-meeting in the interest of the Laymen's Missionary Movement was the only event of the Baptist General Association of Virginia to-day. The meeting was held from 3 to 5 o'clock at the Free Baptist Church, and addresses were made by J. Calvin Moss, of Lynchburg; W. D. Duke, of Richmond; A. T. Henderson, of Bristol; and Bruce B. Corbin, of New York.

Many of the ministers preached today in the pulpits of Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches of the city. At the laymen's mass-meeting the annual report, submitted by Dr. Livius Lankford, chairman, was adopted, as were the resolutions adopted at the laymen's convention at Lynchburg on September 22. The resolutions recommended five important departures from the established procedure of Baptist churches. These recommendations, which will hereafter be effective among all the churches of the State, are:

First, the use of the envelope system for collecting money for missions and the use of the envelope system for raising money for the current expenses of the church. Monthly collections will be made in the country churches and weekly collections in the city churches.

Second, that the sum to be raised for the several mission boards be apportioned among the churches of the district associations. Heretofore the apportionment has been made by the Southern Baptist Convention to the State conventions and associations, and by them to the district associations.

Third, that groups of laymen be sent out to visit the several churches to stimulate and arouse the individual churches to the responsibility of their duties and opportunities.

Fourth, that the General Association adopt a uniform letter of dismissal and of reception, as well as for raising money for the current expenses of the church. Monthly collections will be made in the country churches and weekly collections in the city churches.

Fifth, that the letter of the church clerk to the district association show the post-office address of the clerk, the superintendent of Sunday school, the superintendent of the church, and the superintendent of the church.

Credit for increase in the contributions to the causes of the church since the laymen's movement was organized was claimed to be due largely to the efforts of the organization by the report read by Dr. Livius Lankford.

Method of Finance.
J. Calvin Moss, of Lynchburg, made the first speech, taking for his subject "Practical Methods of Finance." He urged the churches to adopt a systematic plan of attending to the Lord's business. He said the reason church collections win elections in Virginia is because they work by a system. "We are defeated because we have no system. This ought to teach us the necessity of working according to a system."

"The Layman's Place in the Kingdom" was the subject of the talk made by W. D. Duke, of Richmond.

A. T. Henderson, of Bristol, secretary of the movement, spoke on "The Policy of the Laymen's Movement," and emphasized the importance of intelligent, energetic work in any line of business, with a fair division for the glorification of God and the extension of his kingdom.

He said that in ten years there will not be a respectable church in Virginia that will raise money in the spasmodic way. He said he had as leave go to church Sunday morning without his hat as to go without his contribution for missions and the support of his church. He said he had as leave go to the bank and borrow it, rather than fail to make his regular contribution to the church, he declared.

The subject of the address by Bruce B. Corbin, of New York, was "Renewed Devotion to Christ's Unfinished Work." He said since the organization of the Laymen's Missionary Movement there has been an increase in the donations for the cause of missions of over $6,000,000. He dwelt extensively on the opportunities that are opening up to missions throughout the world. He said that in the past four years more than thirty-five million dollars have been raised, and without a dollar of bond issue. It is doubtful if another country in the world can say as much for the management of its road fund.

PRESBYTERIANS CALL REV. W. W. ARROWOOD

Farmville Church Asks Union Theological Seminary Graduate to Become Its Pastor

Farmville, Va., November 19.—Rev. W. W. Arrowood, a recent graduate of Union Theological Seminary, at Richmond, has received a unanimous call to become the pastor of the Farmville Presbyterian Church. Since the resignation and departure of Rev. W. E. Hill, who went from here to a church in Atlanta, the Presbyterian have been casting about for his successor, with the result, after a trial sermon delivered here by him, Mr. Arrowood was called. It is the general opinion that he will accept.

Rev. H. M. Fugate, who for several years has been the pastor of the Baptist Church of Farmville, will go to Park Place Church, Norfolk. His resignation was accepted at a called meeting of the church, and he will make his departure on December 1.

The new infirmary building for the State Normal School is nearing completion, and when the finishing touches have been given it will be one of the handsomest of the group within the grounds.

Jim Lacy, the aged colored man who was burned to death near Farmville Wednesday morning, was for many years the attendant in the store of late H. G. Richardson & Co. and was highly respected and liked for his honesty, humility and politeness. He timbered his friends among the best of white citizens, and was not ashamed that he was born a slave.

Interested in good roads more than in any other thing with which they have to do, an evidence of this fact is that within the past four years more than thirty-five million dollars have been raised, and without a dollar of bond issue. It is doubtful if another country in the world can say as much for the management of its road fund.

MEXICAN REBELS MUST LEAVE TEXAS

State Authorities Will Have Co-Operation of Secretary of War.

Austin, Texas, November 19.—An revolutionists in the vicinity of Laredo must leave Texas within forty-eight hours, read the specific orders tonight of Governor C. B. Coquilt, of Texas, to Adjutant-General Hutchins, who is at Laredo to cope with the situation there.

Governor Coquilt has received a telegram from President Taft stating that he has instructed Secretary of War Stimson to co-operate with the Texas Governor in every way to stop the movement within this State. The telegram came in response to a message to the President from Governor Coquilt, in which he stated that he had information to the effect that there were 500 revolutionists in the vicinity of Laredo, planning to divide into two attacking parties and begin the new Mexican revolution at Nuevo Laredo.

The Governor notified the President that he did not intend to have a repetition of the incident at El Paso, where Texas citizens were killed by flying bullets from the Mexican battles at Juarez. He asked what was the President's pleasure, and to this telegram the President replied that the Secretary of War is to co-operate with the Texas Governor.

A special agent of the Mexican government is to confer with the Governor to-morrow.

Federal Troops Prepared.

Mexico City, November 19.—If any organized revolutionary movement is begun in the northern part of Mexico its leaders must expect to deal with 12,000 Federal soldiers. For some days the War Department has been strengthening various posts in that part of the country, and to-day it was announced that more than one-third of the entire army is in the States bordering the northern frontier. The troops are under command of General Gerónimo Trevino, with headquarters at Monterrey. General Trevino is popularly admitted to be a personal enemy of General Huerta.

In the States of Chihuahua and Durango the Federal forces consist wholly of ex-revolutionists, now rurales. The rurales, in obedience to orders from Madero, have been moved into the adjoining States.

Statements made at the national palace indicate that the government yet believes that no one will succeed in shaping the disaffected elements of the country into an organized army of rebels.

To-day the States of Durango and Yucatan furnished the only news of fresh points of insurrection. In each State the hacendados were reported raided, the work of bandits, the government declares.

proaching Nanking number many thousands. Fifteen warships now in the river under command of the rebels are awaiting the sign for the attack.

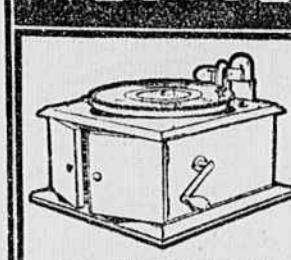

The imperialist garrison in Nanking, under command of General Chang, numbers about 11,000 men, well trained, well armed and strongly entrenched and fortified.

Admiral Sah, who commanded the loyal squadron at Hankow, and whose whereabouts have been uncertain for some time past arrived in Shanghai to-day. He appeared much depressed.

Reports received here direct from Nanking say that all foreigners north of Pukow are safe. The consuls have recommended that all Americans in the Yangtze Valley come in immediately to Shanghai.

GIBBONS SOUNDS CALL TO PEACE

tion treaty principle, and I endorse the idea of the new treaties with Great Britain and France because I believe that questions which might otherwise result in war should be first taken away from the influence of party politics and considered seriously in the calm neutral air of some impartial tribunal whose findings must at least be submitted to international arbitration.

All questions which may be found solvable according to principles of law or equity. The world's greatest need is a breakwater against temporary passions. War is too horrible to be entered upon in cold blood and with deliberation when there is any other possible way to settle the question in dispute.

"I think that one of the things that will redound most to the glory of our country in the future will be its enthusiastic devotion to the movement for international peace. Devotedness to this noble purpose alone will stamp the United States as a truly Christian country, for universal peace among men—the brotherhood of men—is a Christian ideal. Before the advent of Christianity, war was the rule; peace the exception.

STRENGTH AGAINST PASSIONS.

"In spite of the fact that the divinely revealed spirit of Christianity is constantly pressing for universal peace among all men and all nations, and in defiance of this constant appeal, war is waged again and again. It must be admitted that it has occurred less frequently than before and less inhumanly. The reason for this, it is permitted, could be credited to the fact that Christianity has failed in its mission to bring peace to the nations. It should be in mind that the Christian religion enjoins peace, not by the sword, but by moral and religious sanctions; and that, in consequence, the most powerful of all forces, and the most imperious of all human passions.

"The startling fact that, with a population of about a hundred millions, the army of the United States scattered over the entire part of the frontiers of the country. This force, while sufficiently strong to preserve peace, is too insignificant to excite the fear of our neighbors. Our best security lies in the supremacy of the law, and the respect for the rights of our citizens, in their strong attachment to our institutions and in abstention from entangling alliances.

"The cause of international peace is gaining ground in spite of the fact that war is no longer as in former times a means of the sovereign; but the voice of people is heard through their representatives and the press, at least in the United States, and the common interests and fraternal and social relations between the nations of the earth are becoming more intimate.

"It is well ordered society, the dispute of individuals are settled not by recourse to a duel, but to the law. Would that the same feeling toward the national pride of the victor should be the cause of a nation should be vindicated by a court of arbitration rather than by an appeal to arms. Then to rulers, as well as to private litigants, could be applied the words: 'Thine is the sword, but I will not use it.' And this amicable quarrel just." And this amicable quarrel just.

REPORT ON WORK OF CITY HOSPITAL

Announcement of Legacy of $15,000 Left by Connecticut Citizen Is Made.

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
109 North Second Street,
Richmond, Va., November 19.

The report of Mrs. Bartlett Koper, Sr., president of the board of managers of the operations of the city hospital, during the year ending November 1, shows a great deal of work done and a vast amount of good accomplished. It shows, too, that the hospital is at this time one of the best equipped and most thoroughly equipped institutions of its kind in the State.

The new hospital building was opened to the public inspection on January 23, with a large increase in the number of patients being treated, and to charity patients, 1,175 days of treatment were given, not including the hospital work of the Ladies' Auxiliary room or city work, for which there are contracts.

The president expresses a deep sense of gratitude for the munificent legacy of $15,000 left to the hospital by Miss Leavenworth, of Waterbury, Conn., through the influence of his niece, Mrs. John Addison, of this city. Part of this legacy has been reserved as a permanent endowment fund; part was used to pay off obligations.

Two rooms have been generously furnished by friends of the hospital—one by Mrs. H. C. Kinsey and the sun parlor by Mrs. E. A. Kinsey. There were several changes during the year among the managers and advisory board by resignations, but the vacancies were promptly filled, and no judgment is made of the good work and great assistance of the Ladies' Auxiliary. During the past year the auxiliary expended $1,242 for the furnishing of the new hospital, besides keeping up a room for charity patients.

The receipts of the hospital for the year were $1,315.67, and the expenses $1,236.22, leaving a balance in hand of $79.45.

The medical and surgical report shows 313 surgical operations performed, and forty-eight deaths during the year. Of the latter, 11 were persons were brought to the hospital just before death—too far gone or too badly injured to be susceptible of aid.

The advisory board of the hospital is composed of T. B. Beckwith, George Cameron, Jr., W. F. Drewry, Edward Egan, W. B. McQuinn, Bartlett Koper, Jr., L. A. Rosenstock, Simon Seaward, G. C. Wright, Fortescue Waitt.

To Call a Pastor.
After divine service at the Second Presbyterian Church to-day, which was presided by the Rev. T. K. English of the Theological Seminary, a congregational meeting was held for the purpose of taking preliminary steps towards the calling of a pastor. A resolution was offered and adopted, providing for the appointment of a committee of seven to take under consideration the call of a pastor, to whom all papers in reference thereto should be referred, the committee to report back to the congregation. The committee is composed of the following members: George W. Jones, Hugh H. Smith, John W. Friend, Jr., F. F. Thwaitt, J. M. Buchanan, T. H. Darby, J. D. Mann.

The committee of the First Baptist Church appointed some time ago to select a pastor, made no report to-day. The committee is working very carefully.

Arrested on Bench Warrant.
